Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 21 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Wednesday, cloudy start then sunny. A colder feeling breeze.

Today:
A cloudy start but a fine day to follow, with lengthy sunny spells developing. Feeling noticeably colder than Tuesday, especially near coasts with an onshore breeze, but this will be offset somewhat by the warm sunshine. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry overnight with long clear spells and winds falling generally light. This will allow temperatures to drop with a widespread frost developing. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Thursday:
Dry and fine with long sunny spells. Warmer than Wednesday with winds lighter and more variable. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Continuing dry with pleasantly warm sunny spells but also cloudier at times, especially near the coast where feeling cooler at times. Frost still likely overnight where skies clear.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.